

History Subject Leader Network Special

A series of 3 videos examining Black History within Lancashire

Video 1 – Black History: The significance of Lancashire cricketing legend and political activist – Lord Learie Constantine

This update for subject leaders will include a focus on local black history linked to the requirements of the History National Curriculum in Key Stage One.

It will include key support documents and creative ideas, including a focus on our new local history publication 'You Are Here' as well as an exemplar Key Stage One teaching sequence celebrating the significance of Lancashire cricketing legend and political activist - Lord Learie Constantine.

In addition to the video link you will be provided with a download pack of resources and a PowerPoint presentation, including key messages and training materials, which can be used for staff meeting updates or CPD sessions.

Video 2 – Black History: The Lancashire Cotton Industry and its links to the Transatlantic Slave Trade

This update for subject leaders will include a focus on local black history linked to the requirements of the History National Curriculum in Lower Key Stage Two.

It will include key support documents and creative ideas, including a focus on developing core skills in history, as well as an exemplar Lower Key Stage Two teaching sequence focussing on The Lancashire Cotton Industry and its links to the Transatlantic Slave Trade.

In addition to the video link you will be provided with a download pack of resources and a PowerPoint presentation, including key messages and training materials, which can be used for staff meeting updates or CPD sessions.

Video 3 – Black History: A Slave Ship called Hope

This update for subject leaders will include a focus on local black history linked to the requirements of the History National Curriculum in Upper Key Stage Two.

This session will focus on the changes to the statutory framework for EYFS that relate to Understanding the World/ History. It will include key support documents and creative ideas for activities in EYFS as well as an exemplar UKS2 teaching sequence focussing on the story of 'A Lancashire Slave Ship called Hope.'

In addition to the video link you will be provided with a download pack of resources and a PowerPoint presentation, including key messages and training materials, which can be used for staff meeting updates or CPD sessions.

To purchase the training videos, including supporting materials, for only £60 each please click on the relevant video title linked above.