A West Pennine
Moors Trail

A walk of 2 miles,

Approx. 1.5 hours –
steep ascent/descent

Darwen Tower Walk No. 1 A walk of

On a clear day the Isle of Man and the hills of North Wales can be seen from Darwen Tower. The Tower celebrates Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee in 1897 and to many local people it also celebrated the freeing of Darwen Moor in the previous year.

You are strongly advised to use these walk details in conjunction with OS Explorer map No. 287, West Pennine Moors.

With Darwen Town Hall behind you, start walking to your right along Croft Street to its junction with Market Street, the main road. Cross over the road at the crossing and continue up the road immediately in front of you (Borough Rd).

Follow Borough Road up the hill to enter the main gates of Bold Venture Park on your right.

BOLD VENTURE PARK

The park, constructed from a number of quarries and cloughs, is well known for its magnificent floral displays and specimen trees. The park was opened in 1887 and extended in both 1898 and 1914 to reach up to the foot of Darwen moor.

As you walk through this beautiful park note the following:

THE WAR MEMORIAL¹

This memorial was unveiled in 1921 in the honour of over 1,200 citizens of Darwen who gave their lives in the 1914-18 war. The memorial stands symbolically on five steps for the five years of WWI. It is also inscribed in memory of those who died in World War II. In this picturesque setting, it makes for one of the most attractive war memorials in the area.

THE LAKE²

The ornamental lake, the centrepiece of the park is populated by breeding mallards and was known as Bold Venture Reservoir.

THE WATERFALL

A 70-foot cascade which creates a dramatic sight after heavy rain, forming a small lake at its base.

1. Bold Venture Park (War Memorial)

Take the path to the right following the edge of the lake round, past the waterfall, making your way up the park to emerge onto Manor Road.

2 miles, Approx. 1.5 hours – steep ascent/descent

Cross Manor Road to enter upper Bold Venture Park through the gate. Take the right fork of the path to follow the arrow on the stone way marker. Keep Bold Venture Brook to your left all the way up the wooded paths, which are bordered by holly, rhododendron, lime and ash trees.

2. Bold Venture Lake, populated by breeding mallards

A WEST PENNINE MOORS TRAIL

Emerge from the top of the park through the kissing gate and follow the track slightly to your left, up past the disused quarry, leading onto the open moorland.

Continue up the track as it bends round to the right climbing all the way up to the Tower.

Darwen Tower³ stands overlooking the town at a height of 1225 feet and is 86 feet tall. It is the most prominent landmark in the area and is open to the public free of charge. It has a circular viewing platform on the way up as well as the parapet walk at the top. Its history is written on the shield on the front of the tower.

Part way down the hill look out for a kissing gate on your right at the end of a wall. Pass through the gate and straight down the field to Sniddle Hill Farm.

Go through a kissing gate by a farm gate to pass Sniddle Hill Farm on your right.

10

Carry on straight down the path, crossing over Turn Lane via the stile and kissing gate to pass Holly Tree Farm on your right. You are now on Punstock Lane which leads down to Punstock Road, through a kissing gate.

11

Turn left out of Punstock Road at the T-junction to join Borough Road, which leads you back to Darwen town centre.

After visiting the Tower, retrace your steps down the hill to the Ordnance Survey triangulation point. Take the path on the right and at the next junction carry straight on ahead along the wide path downhill.

THE VIEW FROM THE TOWER

To the south nearby are Winter Hill (1,498 ft) with its TV and radio masts and also Great Hill, these merge with the distant Snowdonia and Great Orme's Head, with the Irish Sea beyond. Out at sea an exploratory oilrig is clearly visible, and on a clear day the Isle of Man can be seen.

Further along the coast Southport, Preston and the Ribble Estuary, Blackpool and its Tower lead to the River Lune and Black Combe in Cumbria.

Directly below you can see the local features of Earnsdale and Sunnyhurst Hey Reservoirs, then Sunnyhurst Wood, Darwen golf course, Hoghton Tower and the densely wooded Billingie Hill.

The hills of the Lake District beyond grace the northern skyline and join the Forest of Bowland and the Yorkshire Dales, where the three giants, Wharfedale, Ingleborough and Pen-y-ghent tower beyond Pendle and the Ribble Valley. The Hills of Rochdale and the nearer Holcombe with its Peel Tower are framed by the south Pennines of Yorkshire which

A splendid view of Darwen can also be obtained. Note the 300 foot India Mill Chimney which was modelled on the style of a Venetian campanile. Taking 14 years to complete at a cost of £14,000 it was opened in 1868. In recent years peregrine falcons have successfully nested on the chimney.

Darwen Tower Walk 2

A West Pennine
Moors Trail

A walk of 2 miles,

1.5 hours –
one short steep ascent

Darwen Tower Walk No. 2 A walk of

This circular walk takes in some fantastic views of the surrounding countryside from Darwen Moors.

You are strongly advised to use these walk details in conjunction with OS Explorer map No. 287, West Pennine Moors.

Start from Sunnyhurst Wood Lychgate car park. Brown tourist signs off the A666 direct you up Earnsdale Road to this car park.

Turn right out of the car park up the lane leading past Waterman's Cottage. At the fork keep left, climbing up the hill. Below to the right is Earnsdale Reservoir constructed in 1854 to supply Darwen water. Now sheltered by trees it provides a haven for waterfowl in the winter. Note also Sunnyhurst Wood nestling in the valley bottom and Darwen Golf Course on the hillside beyond.

The Lychgate at Sunnyhurst Woods

who burgled the cottage and stole £5. It later became a refreshment house serving teas of oatcakes and buttermilk which became a favourite rendezvous for local picnickers. It fell into disrepair earlier last century.

Carry on up the path to the top of the hill. Turn left at the wooden bench which overlooks Stepback Clough. This is typical of the small wooded valleys to be found on the fringes of the high moorland in this area. Stepback is also steeped in local history. It is believed to have got its name when Oliver Cromwell, on the moor with his troops in bad weather said, 'step back, go no further'. How true this is, no one can really be sure! There is however some evidence to suggest that opposing forces skirmished not far away in Tockholes. As you turn left at the bench note the stone waymarker again as you continue along the path.

Along this path you can enjoy fine views to your left. Note Ryal Fold, a small group of farmhouse and whitewashed cottages. Amongst the trees is Roddlesworth café and information centre (Tel: 01254 704502)

Continue along the path, forking right past a stone waymarker. To your left is Sunnyhurst Hey Reservoir completed in 1875. At one time, during dry weather when levels were low, water was pumped out of old flooded mine workings to replenish the reservoir.

Ahead a short path on the right leads up to Darwen Tower.

DARWEN TOWER

Darwen Tower stands overlooking the town at a height of 1225 feet and is 86 feet tall. It is the most prominent landmark in the area. It has a circular viewing platform on the way up as well as the parapet walk at the top. Its history is written on the shield on the front of the tower.

WILDLIFE ON THE MOOR

If walking early in the morning, look out for the occasional fox out hunting.

Family Walking on Darwen Moor

Red Grouse can be seen all year round on the moor, with Curlew and Meadow Pipit in the rough pasture. Peregrine Falcons can sometimes be spotted circling overhead. Alongside the drystone walls in the spring look out for Wheatear. The walls are also home to mice, weasels and the Common lizard.

8

After visiting the Tower, retrace your steps down the hill to the Ordnance Survey triangulation point. Take the path on the right and at the next junction carry on straight ahead down the broad path. As you follow the path down note the kissing gate on your right. This is NOT the route back but is the top of Sniddle Hill Lane as it winds downhill to Darwen town centre. A separate leaflet 'Darwen Tower Walk No 1' covering this route was devised in 1996 to commemorate the granting of public access to the moors a hundred years earlier.

With the kissing gate on your right continue down the track. To the left you can see the Water Treatment Plant adjacent to Sunnyhurst Hey Reservoir.

10

Continue on passing through a farm gate and on down the track. As the path splits into two, take the fork to the left. At the end of the path turn left (opposite the Sunnyhurst Pub) along Tockholes Road back to Sunnyhurst Wood Lychgate car park.

THE VIEW FROM THE TOWER

To the south nearby are Winter Hill (1,498ft) with its TV and radio mast and also Great Hill merging with distant Snowdonia and Great Orme's Head, with the Irish Sea beyond. On a clear day the Isle of Man can be seen.

Further along the coast, Southport, Preston and the Ribble Estuary, Blackpool and its tower lead to the River Lune and Black Combe in Cumbria.

Abundant Wildlife.

The hills of the Lake District beyond grace the northern skyline and join the Forest of Bowland and the Yorkshire Dales, where the three statuesque giants, Whernside, Ingleborough and Pen-y-ghent towering beyond Pendle and the Ribbles Valley in the foreground.

A splendid view of Darwin can also be obtained. Note the 300-foot India Mill chimney, which was modelled on the style of a Venetian campanile.

SUNNYHURST WOOD

Adjacent to the car park is a Lychgate giving access to the woods.

Sunnyhurst Wood was originally planted in the early 1800's to provide cover for game birds, but was purchased by public subscription in 1902 and developed as a woodland park. Covering some 85 acres the wood lies in an attractive valley which is rich in both bird and plant life. Over 280 species of flowering plants can be seen together with a variety of woodland birds including the great spotted woodpecker, nuthatch, tree creeper, tawny owl and the very shy jay. Along the stream the grey wagtail, kingfisher and dipper can also sometimes be glimpsed.

Information on walks, wildlife and local history can be obtained free from the Visitor Centre. The centre houses an exhibition gallery for local artists and also childrens' environmental activities.

The centre is open Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, Sunday and Bank Holidays 1pm – 4.30pm. For more information (01254) 701545 during opening times.

Along the banks of Sunnyhurst Brook in Sunnyhurst Woods is the picturesque Olde England Kiosk, erected in 1911 –12 by public subscription to commemorate the Coronation of King George V.

Red Grouse

The Kiosk serves drinks and snacks, is fully licensed and is also registered for marriage ceremonies. For opening times contact (01254) 701530.
